Objectives

Following the new expansion of the database with information on certified micro-credentials and other providers, EQAR is launching a new version of the Application Programming Interface (API).

The aim of the webinar is to present the new API to DEQAR and connection with an updated data model.

For information on the changes, please view the changes' guide. For the latest updates on certified micro-credentials and other providers, consult **DEQAR handbook**.

Participants

IT Specialists of EQAR registered agencies.

What to prepare prior to the webinar

QA agencies are invited to review the planned changes outlined in the attached guideline. We encourage agencies to consult internally about these changes, identify any significant obstacles, and communicate them using the registration form and during the webinar discussions.

Participants will have the opportunity to ask questions and discuss potential challenges following the presentation of each topic.
